Course Description: This course, the 11th grade English requirement, develops students' skills in the areas of reading, writing, speaking and listening. The reading material places emphasis on the entire range of American literature. Students are given the opportunity to study important writers representing the rich diversity found in our American culture. Students will be introduced to research techniques. Students will produce a variety of writing samples in the following modes: descriptive, narrative, analytical, expository, persuasive, and technical. This course culminates in the development and writing of a research paper or research activities.

Instructional Philosophy: Malcolm X once said, “My alma mater was books, a good library.” A self-taught man, he showed the world that, given a dictionary and sufficient dedication, individuals can shape themselves and their world for the better. That is partially why I believe the English classroom is the foundation of a public education. It is the space in which we learn to teach ourselves and one another, harnessing the power of language to understand and create powerful ideas. Reading a wide variety of texts, engaging in daily discussions, and developing creative projects form the basis for lifelong learning, not just two semesters of education. Wherever a student goes after leaving my classroom, they should be prepared to find further education in books and shape their world.

Content Standards
• Reading: Students will read a variety of grade level texts fluently with accuracy, appropriate pace, phrasing, and expression.
• Writing: Students will apply the writing process to plan, draft, revise, edit and publish writing using correct spelling, grammar, punctuation, and other standard conventions appropriate for grade level.
• Speaking and Listening: Students will develop, apply, and refine speaking skills to communicate key ideas in a variety of situations.
• Multiple Literacies: Students will research, synthesize, and communicate information in a variety of media and formats (textual, visual, and digital).

Major Units of Study
The English 5-6 course is comprised of four concept based units which tie into the theme of The American Experience. The units include: Freedom, Struggle & Persecution, Movements & Justice, and American Dreams & Disillusionment. There will also be time devoted to preparation for the ACT, which will be taken in the spring semester.

Course Expectations (examples below)

English
• Read several novels by American authors, and complete a set of assignments and discussions related to your reading.
• Complete a research paper and class presentation on an original research idea.
• Complete at least 7 writing projects/papers that are portfolio-quality.
• Work on grammar daily.
• Read in and out of class. You will be expected to keep up with class reading assignments.
• Read 15 or more short stories, sermons, poems and non-fiction passages from the textbook.

Class Rules and Expectations:
• Students should be in their assigned seat when the bell rings.
• Students will come to class prepared to learn with materials needed for class.
• Students will complete all assigned work to their best ability.
• Students will take responsibility for making up all work when absent.
• Students will respect their classmates and help create a positive learning environment.
• Students will engage in classroom discussion.
• Students will study and prepare for tests and quizzes.

Texts:
• HMH Collections, Grade 10 ©2017
• Tentative Novels: The Bluest Eye, The Things They Carried, The Crucible, Of Mice & Men

Materials:
• Notebook, blue or black pens/pencils, highlighters, and a folder.

Assessment
• Course grades will be determined by planned assessments such as tests, quizzes, and projects scored with rubrics.
• Major tests and/or writing projects are to be expected at the end of each major unit outlined below.

OPS Secondary Grading Practices
All coursework and assessments are judged based on the level of student learning from “below basic” to “advanced.” This course will provide multiple opportunities to achieve at the “proficient” to “advanced” levels. Students are evaluated based on a proficiency scale or project rubric. Proficiency scales for this course are available upon request (teacher will identify location such as portal, teacher website, attached, etc.)

There are three types of coursework
• Practice – assignments are brief and done at the beginning of learning to gain initial content (e.g., student responses on white boards, a valid sampling of math problems, keyboarding exercises, and diagramming sentences, checking and recording resting heart rate). Practice assignments are not generally graded for accuracy (descriptive feedback will be provided in class) and are not a part of the grade. Teachers may keep track of practice work to check for completion and students could also track their practice work. Practice work is at the student’s instructional level and may only include Basic (2) level questions.

• Formative (35% of the final grade) – assessments/assignments occur during learning to inform and improve instruction. They are minor assignments (e.g., a three paragraph essay, written responses to guiding questions over an assigned reading, completion of a comparison contrast matrix). Formative assignments are graded for accuracy and descriptive feedback is provided. Formative work may be at the student’s instructional level or at the level of the content standard. Formative assessments/assignments will have all levels of learning – Basic (2), Proficient (3), and Advanced (4), which means that for every formative assessment/assignment, students will be able to earn an Advanced (4). Teachers will require students to redo work that is not of high quality to ensure rigor and high expectations. The students score on a formative assessment that was redone will be their final score.

• Summative (65% of the final grade) – assessments/assignments are major end of learning unit tests or projects used to determine mastery of content or skill (e.g., a research paper, an oral report with a power point, major unit test, and science fair project). Summative assignments are graded for accuracy. Summative assignments assess the student’s progress on grade level standards and may not be written at the student’s instructional level. Summative assessments/assignments will have all levels of learning – Basic (2), Proficient (3), and Advanced (4), which means that for every formative assessment/assignment students, will be able to earn an advanced (4).

Secondary Grading Scale Pilot
- Social Studies 7 1 – 2
- English/Language Arts 8 1 – 2
- Modern World History 1 – 2
- English 3 and 4 and Honors English 3 – 4
- Algebra 1 and 2 and Honors Algebra 1 – 2 *Includes dual language
- Physical Science 1 and 2 and Honors Physical Science 1 – 2 * Includes dual language

Are there any other changes to grading?
In addition to the changes to the grading scale, the committee also made revisions to the missing coursework, late coursework, weighting assignments using a multiplier, and redoing/revising coursework practices. These changes are in effect for all classes.

Missing Coursework
Work not turned in at all will be recorded in Infinite Campus (district grade book) as an M for missing which calculates to a score of zero.

Redoing/Revising Coursework
Students may be allowed redos and revisions of coursework for full credit during that unit of study based upon the teacher’s professional judgment and evidence collected throughout the unit. Scores for student work after retaking, revision or redoing work will not be averaged with the first attempt at coursework or assessment, but will replace the original student score.

Late Coursework
Students are expected to complete coursework on time. Late coursework may be accepted for full credit until the end of the unit based on the teacher’s professional judgment and evidence collected throughout the unit. Accepted late work will not result in a reduction, and the M (missing) will be replaced with the score earned by the student. The teacher or school may make exceptions depending up on student circumstances (such as prolonged absences due to illness).

Weighting Assignments (Using a Multiplier) *Secondary only
When entering grades in the grade book, teachers may assign greater weight to some assignments. For example, the final exam may impact a student’s summative grade more than a unit test. Teachers will have the option use the multiplier to weight both formative and summative assessments to a maximum of 4. If a weight of 2 or more is applied to an assessment, this information will be communicated to students at the time the assessment is announced.
